

Memorandum of Agreement

Between

St George's University of London, UK (SGUL)

and

Faculty of Medicine, Universitas Brawijaya, Indonesia (FMUB)

St.George's University of London,UK and The Brawijaya University Faculty of Medicine, Indonesia, have agreed to work towards mutual collaboration in the areas of medical education development, facilitating Tropical Medicine Elective Program, Biomedical research, faculty and student exchange in various degree and non degree programs, and collaboration on graduate and postgraduate training. Each institution will consider the recognition of the other's credit in compatible courses and will jointly review relevant curricula. The two institutions encourage collaborative research and graduate students' research supervision, as well as facilitate, when possible, accommodations for academic exchange visits.

Those programs would be elaborated in detail memoranda of understanding and/or other agreements, and reviewed yearly according to the urgency, capacity, and other internal and external factors may affecting the implementation of the programmes.

Neither party shall incur, commit or authorise financial expenditure on behalf of the other, and each party shall be responsible for its own costs associated with any activities relating to this agreement.

Neither party may use the institutional name or logo of the other without prior written approval. Such approval will require submission of draft copy and a listing of proposed destinations of the publicity. If the proposed publicity is not in the English language, an authorised translation shall be provided.

The present MoA is valid for three years from the date of signing unless terminated by either side six-month prior written notice.
